INTRODUCTION

CODE OF CONDUCT PURPOSE

The Baltimore City Public Schools Code of Conduct 2013-14 was written in accordance with the policies of the Baltimore City Board of School Commissioners (the Board), CEO administrative regulations and Maryland law and regulations.

The Code of Conduct includes the rights and responsibilities of the school community, a range of disciplinary responses, and policies and codes of City Schools. All members of the school community, including students, parents and guardians, principals, school staff and the district office, have rights and responsibilities that support a strong school community. Disciplinary responses focus on promoting positive relationships, intervention strategies and the use of suspensions only as a disciplinary measure of last resort.

SCHOOL CLIMATE AND CULTURE

City Schools defines school climate as the elements in a school related to relationships, teaching and learning, physical environment and safety. Positive relationships are critical to creating a positive school climate. School leaders set the tone and expectations for the entire school community, paving the way for all members of that community to take simple yet meaningful steps to improve school climate.

Schools with a positive climate and culture have

- ◆ Positive relationships with all stakeholders—parents, students, teachers and school staff
- ◆ Training and resources to resolve conflicts peacefully and respectfully, with suspensions only as a disciplinary measure of last resort
- ◆ Supports for students who are experiencing emotional crisis, trauma or serious challenges in their homes and communities
- ◆ Engaging academic and extracurricular activities for students that meet behavioral and academic needs
- ◆ Effective communication among schools, parents and communities
- ◆ Clean and well maintained environments that clearly demonstrate school pride and a love of learning
- ◆ A learning environment where students and staff feel physically and emotionally safe

INTRODUCTION

CODE OF CONDUCT PRINCIPLES

Code of Conduct 2013-14 is based on the five principles listed below. These principles provide an important foundation to guide behavior, both individually and in interpersonal relationships. If students abide by these principles, the learning environment in all schools will be strengthened.

- 1 My words, actions and attitudes demonstrate respect for myself and others at all times.
- 2 I seek to correct harm that I have caused to others in the school community.
- 3 I demonstrate pride in myself, in my future, and in my school by arriving on time, dressed appropriately and prepared to focus on my studies.
- 4 I always seek the most peaceful means of resolving conflict, and obtain the assistance of teachers, administrators or school staff when I am unable to resolve conflicts on my own.
- 5 I take pride in promoting a safe and clean learning environment at my school.

The Code of Conduct applies to students at all times while they are on City Schools property during school hours and immediately before and after school, while traveling on vehicles funded or owned by City Schools, and at any school-sponsored event, including field trips. Incidents that occur off school grounds are generally not addressed by City Schools or its Code of Conduct, except for incidents that occur during school-sponsored activities. If it is determined that students have engaged in cyberbullying during nonschool hours and the behavior seriously affects the climate and safety of other students in the school, City Schools may implement intervention or disciplinary responses included in its Code of Conduct.

City Schools recognizes that additional steps must be taken when students with disabilities are disciplined. The Code of Conduct requires principals and school staff to follow Board policies, the administrative regulations of the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) and state and federal laws concerning the discipline of students with disabilities, including procedures for determining manifestation (that is, whether the behavior is linked to a student's disability), conducting Functional Behavioral Assessments and developing Behavioral Intervention Plans. City Schools is also committed to using this code fairly and without discrimination based on a student's Individualized Education Program (IEP), 504 plan, race, ethnicity, national origin, gender, sexual orientation or religion.

DISCIPLINARY RESPONSES

Different types of disciplinary response are described in this section. For more information, consult Board Policy JKA: Student Discipline and regulations JKA-RA through JKA-RE, which are available at www.baltimorecityschools.org.

PROMOTING POSITIVE RELATIONSHIPS

Research shows that positive relationships help children learn. When our communities, schools and homes are free from fear, anger and other distractions, human development can occur. We know that students are more likely to succeed when they feel connected to others in their community, and are less likely to act out in ways that cause disruption to the school environment. (For more on this topic, see Bonnie Bernard's Fostering Resiliency in Kids or Robert Blum's "A Case for School Connectedness," Educational Leadership, April 2005.)

Tips for Calming Conflict

- ◆ Show students you understand. Listen well, with sincere concern, to create positive relationships among students and adults. Trust then becomes the foundation for academic success and conflict resolution.
- ◆ Ask open-ended questions. Say, for example, "What was that like for you?" or "Tell me more about that." This gets more than a "Yes" or "No" response, and helps students tell their story.

- ◆ Use reflective listening when intervening in a conflict. Get the attention of an angry person by reflecting back the feelings you hear in a nonjudgmental way. Let students tell their story—say just enough to help them do it.
- ◆ Help students problem-solve disputes. Use open-ended questions and reflective listening to help students think about what happened. Trust that, with guidance, students will identify a solution that works for them.

Skills and Strategies for Building Positive Relationships

- ◆ Communicating understanding
- ◆ Structuring tasks for student success
- ◆ Reinforcing student behavior in a positive manner
- ◆ Setting rules, limits and consequences
- ◆ Creating a safe and trusting environment
- ◆ Remaining neutral
- ◆ Using nonjudgmental language
- ◆ Responding only when a response is necessary
- ◆ Staying calm in tense situations
- ◆ Encouraging people to "vent" while being aware of safety
- ◆ Listening and repeating what students say (reflective listening)
- ◆ Identifying and labeling feelings, values and topics to be resolved (strategic listening)
- ◆ Asking open-ended questions
- ◆ Assisting people in using a positive problem-solving process

DISCIPLINARY RESPONSES

Suggested Practices for Establishing Positive Relationships

- ◆ Daily Rap. Students need to learn to communicate with one another in ways that help them build healthy relationships instead of records of suspension and arrests. The Daily Rap is an intervention designed around core categories of social and emotional skills. Working in dialogue circles, teachers and staff build open communication with students so that they can talk about topics and resolve issues before they escalate to violence. More information about the Daily Rap is available from the Community Conferencing Center at www.communityconferencing.org.
- ◆ Morning Meetings. Classroom meetings in which the teacher and all students come together are usually for one of two purposes: to build community at a relatively peaceful time or to resolve a conflict. At the Morning Meeting, students sit in a circle and do activities together that help build caring within the group and between individuals. The meeting provides a place for students to understand the truest meaning of “finding common ground.” They come to see, tolerate and appreciate one another’s ways. The most basic element of caring that aids this process is the genuine willingness to listen attentively.

- ◆ Student Advisories. Students meet in small groups with an adult adviser every day or a few times a week to focus on character and civic development. Students discuss day-to-day issues, define their values, develop a trusting relationship with an adult advocate, hone communication skills and participate in social justice or service learning projects. Student Advisories offer emotional support for students during adolescence. Ideally, the advisory teacher is someone students know they can trust and talk to about their progress in school. The activity can provide peer recognition in an accepting environment, and offset peer pressure and negative responses from peers in other areas.

INTERVENTION STRATEGIES

To help students conduct themselves appropriately, the Baltimore City Public Schools Code of Conduct 2013-14 lists prevention and intervention strategies that may be used prior to or in addition to any disciplinary response to student behavior. Examples of such strategies include the following.

- ◆ Behavioral Intervention Plan: An approach to correcting inappropriate or disruptive student behavior through a plan designed by school staff to offer positive behavioral interventions, strategies and supports. This plan is appropriate for students with and without disabilities.

- ◆ Community conferencing: Allows students, school staff and others involved in a conflict to discuss the conflict and how it affected them, and to propose solutions.
- ◆ Community service: Allows students to participate in some sort of activity to serve and benefit the community. Examples include working at a soup kitchen, cleaning up public spaces, helping at a facility for the aged, etc.
- ◆ Conference: Involves students, parents, guardians, teachers, school staff and principals in discussion about student misbehavior and potential solutions that address social, academic and personal issues related to the behavior.
- ◆ Conflict resolution: Empowers students to take responsibility for peacefully resolving conflicts. Students, parents, guardians, teachers, school staff and principals engage in activities that promote problem-solving skills and techniques, such as conflict and anger management, active listening and effective communication.
- ◆ Functional Behavioral Assessment: Involves gathering information about students' inappropriate or disruptive behavior and determining approaches that school staff should take to correct or manage student behavior. This information is used to develop a Behavioral Intervention Plan for the student.
- ◆ Individualized Education Program (IEP) teams: Includes groups of individuals who are responsible for identifying and evaluating students with disabilities; developing, reviewing and revising IEPs for students with disabilities, Functional Behavioral Assessments and Behavioral Intervention Plans; and determining the placement of students with disabilities in a least restrictive environment.

DISCIPLINARY RESPONSES

- ◆ Mentoring program: Involves pairing students with mentors (a counselor, teacher, fellow student or community member) who help their personal, academic and social development.
- ◆ Parent outreach: Requires school staff to inform parents or guardians of their children's behavior and seek their assistance in correcting inappropriate or disruptive behavior. Outreach made in writing or by telephone is intended to make parents aware of students' behavior, task completion and achievement, and can include a request for parents to accompany students to school.
- ◆ Peer mediation: A form of conflict resolution in which students help other students deal with and develop solutions to conflicts.
- ◆ Referral to appropriate substance abuse counseling services: Occurs for behavior related to substance abuse, or with those for whom there is reason to believe substance abuse counseling is needed. Services can be school or community based.
- ◆ Referral to community-based organizations: Can involve a variety of services, including after-school programming, individual or group counseling, leadership development, conflict resolution and tutoring.
- ◆ Referral to school-based health and mental health clinics or other social services: Provides counseling and assessments to students in need. Students are encouraged to privately share issues or concerns that lead to inappropriate or disruptive behavior or negatively affect academic success. In counseling sessions, students discuss goals and learn techniques that help them overcome personal challenges. Parents are to be regularly informed of student progress during counseling sessions and at school. Sessions can also involve family members or can be done in groups.
- ◆ Restorative justice strategies: Interventions designed to identify and address the harm caused by an incident, and to develop a plan to heal and correct the situation.
- ◆ Student support team: Usually consists of teachers, school principals, social workers, nurses, mental health clinicians, psychologists, external agency representatives and a Safe and Drug Free School representative, who help develop prevention and intervention techniques and alternative strategies that ultimately lead to student success. When student behavior requires intervention, parents, school staff and the principal may request that the student support team develop a plan to address the behavior. If the behavior does not improve after implementation, timely review and revision of the plan, the student support team can request a placement review through the central student support team, which may lead to an alternative placement not exceeding 45 days.

LEVELS OF DISCIPLINARY RESPONSE

When students are disruptive or act inappropriately, school staff and principals respond logically, appropriately and consistently. The Baltimore City Public Schools Code of Conduct 2013-14 describes four levels of possible response to inappropriate and disruptive behavior. Each inappropriate or disruptive behavior is assigned to one or more of these levels of intervention and response. Principals and school staff should use only the levels suggested for each behavior.

If the inappropriate or disruptive behavior is assigned to two or more levels, then the lowest level of intervention and disciplinary response should be used first. For example, if a student refuses to follow directions, school staff and principals should first use intervention strategies and responses in Level 1 before moving to Level 2.

When principals and school staff respond to student misbehavior, they are expected to take into account the age, health, decision-making ability and disability or special education status of the student; the appropriateness of the student's academic placement; the student's prior conduct and record of behavior; the student's willingness to repair the harm; the seriousness of the offense and the degree of harm caused; and the impact of the incident on the school community.

In certain circumstances, disciplinary responses that remove students from the classroom or school environment may be necessary. In these cases, City Schools' goal is to make sure that students continue their education, learn how to behave appropriately and correct any harm they may have caused.

Responses include the following:

- ◆ In-school suspension: The exclusion of a student within the school building from his or her regular education program for up to, but not more than, three days per incident, and no more than five days per semester.
- ◆ Short-term suspension: The removal of a student from school for up to but not more than 10 school days. Short-term suspensions of more than five school days must be approved by the CEO.
- ◆ Extended suspension: The temporary removal of a student from school for a specified period of time, longer than 10 school days but not more than 45 school days, by the CEO or the CEO's designee. A student may be referred for extended suspension if his or her presence in school presents a danger or severe disruption, additional time is needed to further investigate the incident or a recommendation to expel the student has been made.
- ◆ Expulsion: The removal of a student from his or her regular school program by the CEO or the CEO's designee for more than 45 schools days. A student may only be recommended for expulsion if an extended suspension is inadequate to address the behavior; the behavior has seriously endangered the health, welfare or safety of other students or school personnel; or the student's continued presence in the school constitutes a significant safety risk. An expulsion may be permanent if the behavior results in serious injury or places others in substantial risk of serious injury or death.

- ◆ Alternative educational placement: Placement in an alternative educational program within a school is the same as in-school suspension, with or without services. General education students may be recommended for an alternative educational placement while on expulsion for behavior that has seriously endangered the health, welfare or safety of other students or school staff. Students on suspension or expulsion are not permitted to remain in school without an alternative educational placement plan.
- ◆ Alternative educational setting: This setting can be inside or outside a school. It enables students with IEPs to continue to progress in the general curriculum, and to continue to receive special education, related services and accommodations needed to meet the goals of their IEPs.

In accordance with Board policy, students can appeal an extended suspension of more than 10 days or an expulsion after a conference with suspension services in the Student Support and Safety Department. Parents are entitled to written notification any time their children are removed from the classroom or school for disciplinary reasons. Listed below are the procedures that must be followed in cases of suspension. To speak with a staff member regarding suspension and expulsion, call City Schools at 410-396-8643.

- ◆ Students are entitled to a conference with the principal and school staff when they are removed from the classroom or school for disciplinary reasons.
- ◆ Students must be given an opportunity to tell their side of the story before being placed on in-school, short-term or extended suspension.
- ◆ Schools must provide parents with a list of community resources every time students are suspended from school.
- ◆ Students are entitled to make up work when they are excluded from school. It is parents' responsibility to make arrangements with the school to obtain makeup work; it is students' responsibility to complete makeup work in a timely manner.
- ◆ Students cannot be suspended for more than five consecutive school days without the CEO's approval.

DISCIPLINARY RESPONSES

- ◆ Suspension Services within City Schools' Student Support and Safety Department represents the CEO in processing extended suspension and expulsion decisions. The school must submit a written report to suspension services when recommending an extended suspension or expulsion. A suspension conference will be scheduled at suspension services for students and parents within 10 school days of the first day of removal. Students and parents have a right to appeal the decision to remove the student on an extended suspension or expulsion.
- ◆ Students with disabilities cannot be removed from school for more than 10 consecutive or cumulative school days without an IEP team meeting.
- ◆ Students must be admitted to school on the assigned reinstatement date regardless of whether parents have attended a conference with the school principal.

If your child comes home prior to the end of the school day without a letter informing you of the reason for, and the length of, the suspension, immediately contact the principal. Do not give the school permission to send your child home for the day because he or she is misbehaving or is not wearing the school uniform. If you are called to the school for a conference and your child is not suspended, your child must stay in school for the remainder of the school day to avoid being considered absent.

Contact the school if your child is sent home without written notification. If the problem is not resolved, call the Safety Hotline at 410-396-SAFE (7233).

LEVELS OF INTERVENTIONS AND DISCIPLINARY RESPONSES

LEVEL 1	Examples of Classroom Interventions and Responses These interventions aim to teach correct and alternative behavior so students can learn and demonstrate safe and respectful behavior. Teachers are encouraged to try a variety of teaching and classroom management strategies.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Contact parent via telephone, email or text message ■ Verbal correction ■ Reminders and redirection (e.g., role play) ■ Written reflection or apology ■ Seat change ■ Parent or guardian conference ■ Parent or guardian accompany student to school ■ Daily progress sheet on behavior ■ In-class time-out ■ Establish buddy teacher system ■ Loss of classroom privileges ■ Teacher or student conference ■ Detention
	Examples of Student Support Team Interventions and Responses These interventions often involve support staff, both school based and within the broader community, and aim to engage the student's support system to ensure successful learning and consistency of interventions, and to change the conditions that contribute to the student's inappropriate or disruptive behavior.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Parent or guardian notification ■ Community conferencing ■ Mentoring program ■ Peer mediation ■ Referral to IEP team ■ Functional Behavioral Assessment ■ Referral to school-based health or mental health clinic ■ Referral to after-school program ■ Service to school ■ Conflict resolution ■ Restorative justice ■ Community mediation ■ Short-term behavioral progress reports ■ Behavioral Intervention Plan ■ Referral to community organization ■ Develop 504 plan
LEVEL 2	Examples of Intensive Support Staff and Administrative Interventions and Responses These interventions can involve the school administration and aim to correct behavior by stressing the seriousness of the behavior while keeping the student in school.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Change in schedule or class ■ Parent or guardian notification ■ Restorative justice strategies, including school and community service ■ Loss of privileges ■ Restitution ■ Detention ■ Conflict resolution ■ Peer mediation ■ Reprimand by appropriate administrator ■ Referral to student support team and, when needed, IEP team ■ Revision to IEP (for students with disabilities) ■ Community conferencing ■ In-school suspension ■ Assignment of work projects ■ Mentoring
LEVEL 3	Examples of Suspension and Referral Responses These interventions may involve the short-term removal of a student from the school environment because of the severity of the behavior. The duration of the short-term suspension, if issued, is to be limited as much as practicable while adequately addressing the behavior.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Parent or guardian notification ■ Short-term suspension (one to five days) ■ Referral to student support team (SST) ■ Referral to substance abuse counseling ■ Referral to the Twilight and credit recovery program ■ Referral to IEP team (students with disabilities) ■ Revision to IEP (students with disabilities) as needed ■ Develop Functional Behavioral Assessments and Behavioral Intervention Plans ■ Referral to community organizations, including community conferencing and community mediation
LEVEL 4	Examples of Extended Suspension and Referral Responses These interventions involve the removal of a student from the school environment because of the severity of the behavior. They may involve the placement of the student in a safe environment that provides additional structure to address behavior. These interventions focus on maintaining the safety of the school community and ending self-destructive and dangerous behavior.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Parent or guardian notification ■ Extended suspension ■ Functional Behavioral Assessment ■ Community conferencing ■ Referral to community organizations ■ Expulsion (serious behavioral infractions) ■ Referral to IEP team (students with disabilities) for manifestation determination ■ Alternative educational placement by suspension services ■ Behavioral Intervention Plan ■ Community mediation ■ Referral to substance abuse counseling ■ Permanent expulsion

POLICIES AND CODES

DRESS CODE

School-Level Implementation of the Dress Code

If the school does not have a uniform policy, generally speaking, students may dress in any style they desire, but there are restrictions:

- 1 The style of clothes that a student wears may not endanger him, her or other students.
- 2 The style of clothes worn may not disrupt the daily school routine.
- 3 Students may be required to wear certain types of clothing, usually for safety reasons, while participating in classes such as physical education, shop, chemistry, etc., or in curricular and extracurricular classes or activities such as band, choir, dance, drama and theater.

See also the following specifics of the dress code.

Students are responsible for keeping themselves and their clothes neat and clean. Students may wear their hair in any style they choose, provided the hair is kept neat and clean.

Positive Behavior Interventions and Supports

Positive Behavior Interventions and Supports is a schoolwide behavior management framework that has a three-tier model of prevention and intervention (Tier 1, universal; Tier 2, targeted; Tier 3, intensive). This initiative has been sponsored statewide by the Maryland State Department of Education, Sheppard Pratt Health Systems and the Johns Hopkins University School of Public Health's Center for the Prevention of Youth Violence. Some City Schools have been implementing the framework since 2005.

Positive Behavior Interventions and Supports are developed at the school level by school staff, principals and students to create a positive culture and climate with consistent high expectations for behavior, incentives and consequences. By creating a schoolwide system for these structures, Positive Behavior Interventions and Supports help adults and children have a common understanding of the behavioral expectations for all individuals. Additionally, through the use of data and regular meetings, the Positive Behavior Interventions and Supports team within the school can tailor systems to better meet the needs of students. Parents and guardians are encouraged to serve on their school's Positive Behavior Interventions and Supports team.

For more information about Positive Behavior Interventions and Supports, please contact your school or the Student Support and Safety Department at 443-642-3800.
